STREETSMART
SOUTH AFRICA
HELPING STREET CHILDREN

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS

With every cup of tea or coffee you enjoy at the French Rooms you are helping vulnerable children in South Africa through StreetsmartSA, an organisation under the founding patronage of Archbishop Desmond Tutu.

We are one of only two participating restaurants outside South Africa to get involved with this brilliant charity.

We are also helping StreetmartSA by donating £1.00 for every bottle of South African wine sold and our staff contribute directly with their own 'biggest loser' dieting competition. There are fines every week if they put on weight but with three of our more athletic staff doing wait training at the gym it's the reverse - they are fined if they loose weight! Our full year target is £2,000.00 and all funds are allocated for the Kusasa School project in the Franschoek valley, Western Cape, South Africa. You can choose not to make a donation should you wish.

We also support our local kids introducing them to hospitality and cookery. Many are hugely talented and you can see examples of their artwork at the BT building by the Car Park, the Park & Ride buses to the Giant's Causeway and with some of the illustrated panels in the windows of vacant buildings.
